Friendship Day

The impulse to make friends is inborn in most of the children.

Friendship is an essential part of our social and emotional development. It enhances the qualities like cooperation, communication, compassion, responsibility, and emotional control.

Our kids have celebrated friendship day by tying wrist bands to each other.

Yoga Day

We derive enormous benefits from yoga. Physically, it enhances our flexibility, strength, coordination, and body awareness. In addition, doing yoga improves the concentration and sense of calmness and relaxation.

On this eve, our children performed some basic yoga poses. Teachers spoke about the importance of yoga in human life. They all realized how yoga helps us improve physical and mental strength.
